

Chosen for Shanghai varsity award

MYSURU: The Shanghai University in China has chosen Neetu Ganapathy, Associate Professor, Shri Dharmasthala Manjunatheshwara Institute for Management Development (SDMIMD), for the "Outstanding Teaching Award-2016"

"This award is given in appreciation for her teaching at Shanghai University last year.

The award recognises excellence in teaching practices, teaching effectiveness and the ability to inspire students. She was chosen from amongst several international visiting faculty members. The award will be presented to her in March," a release from the college said.

— Special Correspondent